

Great Cloud of Witnesses: Dream

The Dream

As I slept, I was partially awakened and saw a vast multitude of humans and other creatures I can only describe as aliens who were pressing against a fence trying to see what was happening on earth. The location looked like a massive field but was paved like an airport runway and airfield.

They were pushing each other aside to get closer to the fence to be able to see more.

I asked who were these creatures? I was then told "they were the great cloud of witnesses that are watching the occurrences on earth with great interest in these last days."

Not Among the Watchers

I was not in this group but over the fence watching them. I was being watched by them as it turns out.

Perhaps this dream was given to say we are not alone in the universe and there are many species and aliens who are now watching earth to see the outcome of the war of good against evil. I believe this to be the case.
