

Crises Banking System: Dream

The Dream

In the early morning of July 12th ,2012, I had a dream where I was chatting with my dad about starting a bank that would be a gold and silver exchange and depository. We decided to use the old spelling of the family name of 'Smyth' for the Bank name.

With continued discussion in the dream, we decided we would not deal in cash except in exchange for gold bearer bonds or silver bearer bonds which were used as money in a closed community of people who were members / investors in the Bank. The bonds were issued in different denominations up to one ounce and down to 1/10th of an ounce in either gold or silver.

'Wooden' Gold and Silver Bearer Bonds

The bonds in the dream were made of a 2-ply veneered hardwood wood each with its own distinctive grain as an 'organic' fingerprint of nature that could not be duplicated or counterfeited. They were made to the size of a charge card for easy carrying with the value of exchange laser-etched into the wood. The grain of the wood and information on the cards were then x-rayed into a pictorial database to assure counterfeiting of the bonds issued would not be possible.

These were gold and silver bearer bonds so the bearer of these bonds would be able to exchange the bonds for cash at any time at the Smyth Bank at the daily international gold rate plus a 1 % commission to the Bank. They could also use these bonds in purchasing goods at participating stores or from other members who produced goods and services.

Specific Details of the Dream

1. Gold and silver bearer bonds would be issued in exchange for US Currency based on current international exchange rates plus a 1 % commission. Conversion of the bonds back to cash would also be with a 1% exchange rate based on international exchange rates.
2. Junk gold and silver would be purchased by the Bank in exchange for gold or silver bearer bonds less the cost of purifying the metals. Mining companies could also use this service in processing their mined metals.
3. The bulk of the gold and silver bullion would be secretly moved from the Bank depository and held in secret caves in an area protected with high security electronics and a highly trained security force.
4. The Bank would be founded and registered as an off-shore bank (or really an Precious Metals Exchange) to not be entangled with the US Banking system. The company could be set up as a Co-op LLC (LLP) with all members having an ownership interest in the Bank.
5. The preferred location of Banks would be on Native Reservations and among Christian communities who believe the US Dollar is not a stable currency.
6. The gold and silver exchange rates would be locked to the average daily international exchange rates for precious metals and not the unpredictable value of the US Currency.
7. Participating stores near the banks would list daily exchange rates so Bank members may purchase their products with the Bonds (1/10th ounce increments of gold or silver) and not with US Currency. Change would be given in US Currency and/or in Bonds if they are on hand.

New Bank Needed Now

As I lay awake after the dream, I had a strong sense it is important we pursue the establishment of this bank and similar banks as a gold and silver based banking system across America and in other countries immediately.

Perhaps the Holy Spirit is now saying it is time to become independent from the world economic system so as to avoid the economic enslavement that is prophesied to come with the rise of the Antichrist's New World Order. My estimation is the economic crash in America could come very soon.
