

Seven Sisters of the Dove and the Blue Angel: Dreams

by David Michael, info@glentivar.org

The Dream

As I slept on the night of January 2012, I was awakened in the middle of the night with the words, "Seven sisters of the moon" as it wrote itself across my mind.

This sparked a search on the life of Bathsheba (bat Sheba) meaning 'daughter of the oath' or 'daughter of Sheba'. The Kingdom of Sheba included part of Egypt at the time of Bathsheba and King David in about 1000 BC according to Josephus.

Queen(s) of Sheba

At that time, Sheba and Egypt were united so the Queen of Sheba that met with Solomon some years later was a queen of both a part of the Sinai and also Egypt during a time when the Amun priests were ruling as pharaohs in upper Egypt.

The name suggests that Bathsheba may have had a family connection to the royal house of Sheba and the pharaohs of the past. Since Bathsheba was the mother of Solomon, to pursue her is to pursue the royal line of King David and Solomon.

After the dream and more research, I discovered that Bathsheba also literally means 'daughter of [the] seven' thought to be a name given to her in honor of the Pleiades representing the seven 'goddesses' or angels favored in North Syria. As such, the name further makes a compelling connection with Sheba and Egypt.

Some spiritualists today associate the seven sisters with the seven Chakras of the body as internal 'star-gates' of passage for the reactivation of our original DNA. I am not sure what to think about this.

Orion in the Chase

In the morning, I continued the search on the topic and found that the stars of the Seven Sisters are located just to the right of the Orion belt of the Pleiades constellation (below but off the picture) and it is currently 'hiding' behind the moon as viewed from S. Africa.

The legend is the hunter Orion (now under Draconian alien control) is in the chase of the Seven Sisters in a hunt and has found the Seven Sisters now hiding behind the moon as a strategy for escape. The seven sisters are often referred to as seven doves in this context suggesting a gentle approach to life. The 7 daughters in this context also represent the 7 churches in Revelation.

Chi Rho

In other writings, I have identified the Pleiades as originally the Chi-Rho as used to represent Christ whereas Orion appears in other sources to also be a rival 'god' that seeks to overcome the Seven Sisters to have the rule over them and pollute them.

It is the moon that provides refuge for the seven doves who are 'flying' close to the Pleiades. This may all seem fantasy but it was the words I received being awakened from sleep. I can only say it has spiritual importance for what is occurring in this time.

Chinese Festival

The Chinese have held a 'festival of the seven sisters' over the last 1500 years that is a time when a young woman seeks a suitable mate. This suggests it is a time when good occurs and a life of peace is assured when the doves of the seven sisters seek and find true love.

Amun-Ra

The Egyptian god prominent during the time of 1000 BC was Amun-Ra which may be associated with Orion in this context and was one of the gods of historic Sheba. This occurred during the time of the Tanis dynasty that followed after the close of the Ramses dynasty that had enslaved the Hebrews.

The hunter Amun-Ra seeks the seven sisters or goddesses to rule over them. The number seven in scriptural texts has been referenced to the seven spirits of god, the seven character traits of God and the Seven Churches addressed in the book of Revelation. In each of these biblical representations, the image is strongly feminine in nature.

If this context is then considered, it would follow that Amun-Ra is seeking to rule over the seven churches identified in the beginning of the book of Revelation to again rise to power in these later days. The dove moon then comes to provide protection – perhaps symbolic of the Holy Spirit of YHWH or the ministry of the prophets also mentioned as coming in mass numbered to 144,000 in the book of Revelation.

Whatever the right interpretation may be, I pray these biblical prophets find their divine calling through the power of the Holy Spirit and make themselves ready for a 'battle of protection' of the true Church in the days to come. What we can conclude is these sisters are a female force who will need protection from the hunter of darkness.
