Called a Monk of Ardon: Visitation
by David Michael, info@glentivar.org

Back when I was age 18, I had a visitation in the night. I had just written out a long list of what I would want in a woman if I were to marry for my sisters at their request but claimed I was called to be a monk. Within a week I had this visitation from YHWH in which he said, "You are a Monk of Ardon." Not "you will become" but "You are..." as in I had already been called into this mission by God.

I had to look up both words in the Latin for Monk and Hebrew for Ardon to assure I had the right meaning. Monk means "one who is alone" and Ardon was the name of an OT person and it means "one who is destined to wander." The meaning when putting these two words together is "Lonely Wanderer" or "One who is destined to wander alone."

After 2 failed marriages and 6 children who I love dearly along with multiple careers in seeking to do financially well for my family, I must admit I have failed in this very noble social pursuit of marriage. In some respects I have failed in not fulfilling the social norms as a father to my children. As much s this pains me deeply, I must do what I have been called to do.

I am now back to being alone and wandering the mountains as a prophet. Much like I did as a youth – especially to my younger children. Being compelled by YHWH, I have finally embraced my calling as a Monk of Ardon as I was called to be 42 years ago. Recently through a series of events, I have come to realize I am not to find the people of YHWH to train them as prophets but they are to find me where ever I may be abiding at the time in the mountains and deserts of America. This is a well received release of the burden upon me in know knowing that God will lead the right people to me to train when the time is right. Yes... lead them to the School of the Prophets in the desert. For now, I am wandering alone in the deserts of AZ and NM at higher elevations in the company of angels and occasionally other prophets. May the Great God YHWH be praised forever!
