

Deliverance from Sodomy

In the early morning of the 9th of September, 2017, I found my self traveling the road in my truck with my wagon. There were thousands traveling the roads at this time who were homeless trying to find a place to camp and to live with resources to feed them and that would provide fuel for heat. As I was watching hundreds go by on the roads, a couple came up to me riding a small garden tractor and said, "You must help us!" I told them I had nothing like them and did travel myself.

Then I found myself in a large abandoned warehouse that was being used by many to get out of the wind and weather. It was large enough where vehicles and RV were in there. Two young couples came up to me and asked if I would travel with them. As were we chatting, one said that he will have his armed girlfriend rape a homosexual guy as entertainment. I then excused myself from traveling with them. They left and I realized I should have said something. So I followed them to outside where there seemed to be a small amphitheater that was partially filled with travelers just standing and sitting around and talking. I said in a loud voice for all to hear, "I would not do what you are planning to do."

With this the man turned and laughed. I then spoke the following words to the man and to the crowd.

"I am a priest and have been so for many years. The power you are seeking to challenge in the homosexual man is not his true self but evil spirits of sodomy who has entered him at conception or when he was very young and for many when they were sexually molested during their youth. It is not their real soul or nature but an evil spirit who now lives within and through them."

As I then approached the man and lifted my right hand as to lay hands on him I said,

"This is how such a soul is delivered from the demons of sodomy."

I continued to walk toward the man and prayed quietly. When I got within 2 feet of the man, an evil spirit arose up within him and distorted his face for a moment where it became very dark and his eye became greatly enlarged and evil looking. As I pursued the man with this now exposed demon with my right hand still extended toward him, the evil spirit then went into retreat and the man began backing up in fear always staying away from the touch of my hand on his forehead. I then said;

"So it is with evil spirits of any kind. They fear the name and power given to YShua by YHWH and will retreat. The only way this evil created species can oppose the servants of YHWH is when they are given liberty to do so by YHWH himself in order to make them a martyr. But by so doing in the shedding of innocent blood, they come under immediate judgment and await the fire of eternal hell that was prepared for them long before man was created. Sadly, all mankind who follows these demons and fallen angels are also destined for hell originally prepared for the rebellious angels."

With saying these words, I turned away from the crowd and walked back into the large warehouse where my truck and wagon were located.
