

Bishop of Cordova

10/30/2022

by Abbot David

In the early morning of the 30th of October 2022, I found myself in a desert like area. I was approached by a couple of people and told I am to be the Bishop of Cordova. In the event, I did not even know what or where Cordova was. I was just puzzled.

As I was partially awake after the dream, I wondered if this was important or not. I then did not feel any real urgency and dismissed it.

Upon awakening, I did a quick search on my phone with the word Cordova as a place. I also argued with myself I did not need or want any more titles and names that I had to defend or justify to people and church organizations. I am already a Bishop of Hava (Hawaii) and a Titular Bishop of Iona (Scotland). I do not want any more titles. Too much baggage in life.

I did find it was the name of all of the southern Spain during the Moorish Islamic rule of the Caliphate in circa 1000 AD. I kept searching and it was also the name of a few cities in the US in Alaska and Tennessee and even in Mexico. I even found a Cordova town in New Mexico near Taos. But none of these seemed to resonate in my spirit that they were the right place.

Cordova is a Spanish locational surname, recorded in the spellings of Cordova, Cordoba, Cordobes, Cordoves, Kordova, Kordovani, and Kurdvani. The city itself is ancient, the name pre-dating known records and the meaning is uncertain, however a probable translation is 'the new place' from the Roman (Latin) 'cordarius' meaning 'new' and 'obra', a construction. Cordova generally means “new construction” or a “new place to be built” in Latin.

I then thought perhaps there was and is a ranch by this name in the US and did this search and found Cordova Ranch near Los Lunas, NM not far from where the Decalogue was located on Hidden Mountain. I was told before in another dream that this Decalogue will become extremely important to the ministry with the native Americans.

I sensed this is the right place in my spirit. The distance as a crow flies is 14.5 miles from Cordova Ranch to the Decalogue? Cordova Ranch is currently for sale as a 100 acre farm for $1 million.. There is an air park right next to the ranch so perhaps I am to begin traveling by air? There is no economic way could I consider this purchase!

In further thinking, it seems better that I associate with the Pueblo tribal people who have control of the Decalogue on the Comanche Ranch also called Isleta. <https://www.isletapueblo.com/> . Why should I set up 14 miles away (20 miles by road) from this important site? Why am I to be the Bishop of Cordova (a new place of construction) and its surrounding area? Am I to move there I wondered. Perhaps this is a dual meaning. I am move to a “new place of construction” that is near the Decalogue. I do not know... yet.
