

Templar Coin Found

by Abbot David Michael, ThD

Gold Horde

On the early morning of the 19th of March, 2022, I found myself in a dream-vision away from the desert in a place or country where many people were living. This was a large metropolis city - more like an international city someplace in the world – possibly in Europe.

I was to meet with a tall man I had never met and with my dad. Later we were to meet an Orthodox bishop of high rank – perhaps a Patriarch.

I met with the man and my dad first in an empty theater hall and we discussed the issues surrounding the end of the age and the Templars. I told them the Templars will rise up in the last days and there are two factions. One faction now follows Lucifer and the Egyptian gods and the other faction follows YHWH. We are to align with the YHWH branch of the Templars.

The man showed that he had a small Templar gold coin he had found that suggested a Templar horde in a known place to him of very high value in the multimillions of dollars. We discussed and agreed there is a need for this treasure horde to fund the last day mission against the Antichrist regime and their Templars.

Meeting Orthodox Patriarch

We then walked together onto a great outside plaza and found the bishop who I recognized standing alone among many hundreds in the great plaza. This bishop was more a compilation of bishops I had served under in the orthodox church in America over the last 30 years. The plaza may have been Red Square in Moscow.

We went up to him and introduced ourselves. He in speaking with my dad listened to the story of the Templar gold coin and the mission for the end times with some favor. We then blessed each other (as bishops do) and we parted from the bishop. Myself, my dad and possibly the man have all been ordained orthodox bishops linked to the jurisdiction of the Moscow patriarchate before the country became Communist.

As we walked about 30 feet away from the bishop, I turned around and returned to the bishop and gave him a big hug. We had tears in our eyes in friendship. He mentioned he liked my dad and his evident transparency. I agreed my dad was transparent. I then left and the dream ended.

I immediately awakened and prayed very loudly, “Lord, I do not want to be associated with the Templars any more. I am trying to get away from them.” The reality is, the male line of our family have been leading Templars in France, Israel and England since the 1100’s – over 800 years. It is not easy to escape such a long “spiritual” family history.

Conclusions

There are a few things that emerge in this dream-vision. First there is a horde of treasure of the Templars that is to be found and used in the end times in the war against the Antichrist regime and their “Templars of Darkness.” Secondly, there is an alliance of 4 individuals representing 4 missions of YHWH that will unite in this battle as the “Templars of Light.” Thirdly, the Orthodox Church will be involved in this alliance whose primary enemy is the Jesuits of the Roman Catholic Church and Pope Francis. The meeting in Red Square suggests Russia might side politically with our cause.

We can be assured a war against the Roman Catholic hierarchy by a remnant of the Orthodox who embrace the “Templars of Light” will emerge in these last days. The light always prevails over darkness in open battle in due time.
